Selectmen's Meeting

WIRE INSPECTOR PROBLEM

Chiefly concerning the Selectmen's meeting last Tuesday was a new state law prohibiting a town wire inspector from doing any wiring work in the town he inspects. The law is effective December 1, 1979. Selectmen are concerned because small towns cannot support a full time wire inspector and traditionally the part time inspector's job has been done by a licensed electrician working in town and in the area. Mattapoisett's wire inspector is Russell Peirce. Even if the towns traded wire inspectors it would mean a sacrifice for that official who could not accept work in the neighboring town. Selectmen asked that Executive Secretary Stephen Lombard consult with the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association to see what other towns plan to do about this situation.

APPOINTED

Bernard F. Talty was appointed to serve on the Harbor Study Committee.

JUROR DRAWN

The name of John L. Bambury of 4 Bambury Lane, Mattapoisett, was drawn for jury duty at the Criminal/Civil Session in Brockton on October 1, 1979.

Council on Aging

MATTAPOISETT

The Council on Aging met Tuesday night, September 11, with all six members present, together with Sophie Sterling, our Senior co-ordinator. Kathleen Coucci, V.P., presided. We have recently lost by resignation three valuable members -- Chairman Paul Kelley, Vice-Chairman Sandra Perkins, and Donald Welch. It was voted to send letters of appreciation to Paul and Sandra for their several years of continued effort on the Council. Don Welch, who is a newer member, we expect to welcome back as a non-voting member when he takes over as President of the Mattapoisett Seniors. Trying to do the workload the Council imposed on them, along with their own work, proved too much of a burden for Paul and Sandra and all three members have suffered the frustration in our long effort to get at least a Senior Aid consented to by the Selectment. Other than minibus and bus trips we have been unable to offer the services usually available to Seniors. So far as we know, we are the only town in our area without a director or co-ordinator to plan and tie our efforts together, and have definite office hours for Seniors to consult us.

The permission finally granted by the Selectmen to have a Senior Aid for twenty hours a week is a very important first step for us. Now we will need help in training this Aid, when we get one, which will not be easy because, besides having the required abilities for the job, there are stipulations on limited income and need for a car. We have applied for a State Grant for a consultant to help set up our office, bring our Senior records up to date and set up a real information Center with the knowledge of where and how to get the necessary services. Among the duties of this office will be the following:

1. Provide information, make reservations and cancellations for all bus and minibus trips.
2. Arrange for I. D. cards.
3. Keep records of Seniors needing special requirements.
4. Set up a file, in co-operation with the District Nurses, on medical needs, including vial-of-life program, telephone reassurance, etc.
5. Set up a file for those who might need help in bad storms for food or shoveling out.
6. Arrange to answer questions and help on all new programs, such as chore service, home care, legal assistance through On-when a group known as "U-U Solos" gathers for a "Forum" evening, which includes discussion groups addressing a topic of mutual current interest followed by a wine and cheese social.

U-U Solos, sponsored by the Unitarian and Universalist churches in the area since early 1978, has gained acceptance as a means for single individuals in the area, whether separated, divorced, or widowed, or never married, to meet and participate as a group in a variety of social, intellectual and recreational activities in a familiar and comfortable environment. In addition to the Friday Forums which occur bi-weekly in various area church parish houses in rotation, there are such other activities as play readings, book discussions, potluck suppers and group outings, planned by members and usually meeting at or from a member's home.

At the Forums only a small donation per person is requested to help toward expenses. A monthly newsletter of coming events is published and mailed for a small subscription rate.

D.A.R. Meeting

Miss Rita Steele, Head Librarian of the Millicent Library, Fairhaven, was presented with four books listing all the Revolutionary War ancestors of all members nationwide of the Daughters of the American Revolution, for their Research Room.

This took place at the meeting of the Fort Phoenix Chapter on Monday and the Regent, Mrs. Daniel Gifford, made the presentation.

It is hoped that those interested in their "Roots" around this area will be helped by perusing these records.

Mrs. Beatrice Elder of Marion would be glad to assist anyone who feels they would qualify for membership in the Fort Phoenix Chapter. She is membership chairman. All that is necessary is proof of ancestor lineage back to some man or woman who fought or aided financially in the Revolutionary War. Meetings are held the second Monday of each month, except January and February, at Millicent Library, or on occasion at the homes of various members who come from Marion, Wareham, Mattapoisett, Rochester, Fairhaven, New Bedford, Acushnet and South Dartmouth.

SMU Theater

"AH WILDERNESS"

Eugene O'Neill's comedy, "Ah, Wilderness!", will be presented by the Southeastern Massachusetts University Theatre Company on September 20, 21, 22 and 23 at 8:00 p.m. in the SMU auditorium.

William Cain of the Trinity Square Repertory Theatre who played at SMU in "Equus" last season returns to star in the role of Nat Miller, originally played by George M. Cohan.

The story, which takes place in a small town in the early 1900's, tells of a young man who rebels against the conventional mores until he finds that his own conscience tells him very much the same thing that his parents and friends have said all along.

"It is a touching story of the frustrations of youth, family life and love", says Director Angus Bailey. "O'Neill has picked a subject sure to touch the hearts of everyone who has ever been young and in love."

The cast includes William Cain, Jane

SMU Lecture Series

FONDA, HAYDEN TO SPEAK AT SMU

Political activist and actress Jane Fonda and her husband, Tom Hayden, will speak at Southeastern Massachusetts University on Friday, September 28. Their 8 p.m. address, the first in SMU's 1979-80 Lecture Series, will take place in the SMU Gymnasium.

Fonda and Hayden will speak on "The Social Implications of Political Issues Facing America Today". One of the issues they are sure to touch on is the nuclear energy controversy. "There is now a Vietnam-style credibility gap between Americans and their government, " the couple wrote in a recent issue of New York magazine. "Like the hydrogen bubble in the Three Mile Island nuclear reactor, public opinion is capable of exploding if the Carter administration doesn't change its energy direction quickly and decisively...We look forward to joining dozens of local anti-nuclear organizations in an effort ... that can break the back of the utility-government nuclear lobby and lay the foundation for a solar future."

Fonda, the Vassar-educated daughter of actor Henry Fonda, holds Academy Awards as best actress for her performances in Klute (1971) and Coming Home (1978). While living in Paris during the 1960's, she became concerned about the United States' involvement in the Vietnam war. She made headlines by visiting North Vietnam and speaking against the U.S. war effort on Radio Hanoi, by praising the Black Panthers, and by accusing Hollywood of making her a commodity. Since her return to film acting several years ago, Fonda has carefully chosen scripts geared to wiping out the Hollywood stereotypes of women. Her starring role in 1979's The China Syndrome has made Fonda a symbol of the anti-nuclear power movement in the U. S.

One of the radical "Chicago Seven" charged with conspiracy for their anti-war demonstrations at the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago, Tom Hayden has more recently chosen to promote his philosophy from inside the political mainstream. In 1976 he startled politicians by receiving 1.2 million votes in a losing bid in the U.S. Senate primary in California. Hayden now is founder and head of the Campaign for Economic Democracy, an organization which hopes to build a majority coalition around national economic issues and which espouses public ownership of businesses. A founder and leader of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) in the early 60's, Hayden has written five books (two on the Vietnam War) and hundreds of articles for newspapers, magazines, and political anthologies. He is active in the solar energy movement in California.

Tobey Hospital

RAMP AT MAIN ENTRANCE TO TOBEY

Patients and visitors alike at Tobey Hospital have been pleased with the ramp recently added to the hospital's main entrance on High Street. The ramp, which rises from street to first-floor level, is equipped with railings on each side.

Tobey Hospital, realizing the trend of providing equal access to public buildings for the handicapped, built this according to the specifications of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The work was completed under the supervision of the hospital's maintenance department.

The ramp, already a boon for the physically disabled, the elderly, the mothers with baby carriages, and the nurses or volunteers discharging patients in wheel chairs, has another added benefit: the relief of congestion at the rear door. This entrance may now remain clear for emergency vehicles or delivery trucks.

However, Tobey Hospital would like to ask the public for continued support of

WHO OWNS TOBEY HOSPITAL?

As Tobey Hospital approaches its fortieth birthday and its 500,000th patient, this is a good question to consider. But first, who does not own it?

Not the town of Wareham. Tobey is a voluntary, non-governmental hospital.

Not the Doctors. This is not a proprietory hospital.

Not the Stockholders. There are none. Tobey Hospital is a non-profit membership corporation for which no stock can be issued.

Not the Trustees. They merely hold the property in trust and administer it for the benefit of the public. They do this as a community service without pay.

In a real sense, all those in the communities served by the hospital are the owners of Tobey Hospital.

During the past 40 years, many grateful patients have wished to share in Tobey Hospital's continuing commitment to quality medical care. They have done this through gifts, donations, or memorial funds which enable the hospital to purchase equipment beyond the scope of the current operating budget. The medical staff submits a list of such items each year, and because of financial constraints, Tobey often relies on the generosity of local organizations and individuals for these needs.

Perhaps you, as an "owner" of "your" community hospital, would like to discuss your contribution with the administrator.

WEDNESDAY LUNCHEON

A demonstration of skills by the YWCA class instructors will be given on September 26. The cafeteria-style luncheon is open to the public.

DANCERCIZE

The key to this new class at the YWCA is music. Dancercize was created to let the body feel movement through music, without stress on any one muscle. It is designed for those who dislike a strict and traditional exercise program yet wish to improve body tone and well-being, losing tension and fatigue in a positive way.

YMCA

DRAMA CLASS

The YMCA of New Bedford is pleased to announce the addition of a Drama class to the new Fall program schedule. This marvelous introduction to the theatre will include various exercises and techniques to develop the young actor's 3 basic tools; voice, mind and body. There will be exercises in using the 5 senses, relaxing, limbering up, mime, improvisation and speech, plus an introduction to stage movement, script reading, make-up and costumes. The class starts September 29th and the "Y" will hold 2 classes a week for 10 weeks. Young people between the ages of 8 and 18 will be able to take part in this new and exciting program every Saturday morning from 9:00-10:30 and 11:00-12:30. For more information, please call the YMCA at 997-0734.

YMCA A FAMILY AFFAIR

Despite its name, the YMCA is increasingly becoming a family affair. So says Lou Rodrigues, Operations Director of the New Bedford YMCA, in announcing the "Y's" new Fall program.

"Across America, family "Y" memberships make up the fastest growing segment of the "Y" membership, accounting for nearly 25% of the total," Mr. Rodrigues said.

"Reasons for the shift are not hard to find. Nowadays, the "Y" offers programs for just about every member of the family ... with the exception of the family pet."

Mr. Rodrigues pointed to the "Y's" fall

For every age, there is a wide variety of fitness and sports activities -- from Tiny Tot Swim & Gym to the Adult Fitness Classes.

For the younger set specifically, there are such activities as basketball, gymnastics, swimming lessons, etc.

"The accent on the family has also led to far greater participation by women," Mr. Rodrigues said, "leading to the designing of a growing number of programs to meet specific interests of women, such as the new and exciting DanceFIT classes.
